Weekly Schedules

The schedules for the next two weeks are attached. Please review them and let me know if you will be out on vacation anytime soon.

Aloha!

I am so excited to be transitioning into this new role at the Museum and can't wait to begin working with all of you. I have some big shoes to fill, but am up for the challenge! Please feel free to reach out to me via email at Kathryn.Moriarty@PearlHarborAviationMuseum.org. I look forward to celebrating with you at the Volunteer dinner on April 12th.

Volunteer Appreciation Month

April is Volunteer Appreciation Month! Please check out the attached list of Oahu museums that will offer our volunteers free entry throughout next month!

Saying Farewell

I am sad to announce that next month I will be departing the Museum for a new position at the Hawaii State Art Museum. I've learned so much in this role and from all of you, I cannot properly express my gratitude for the opportunities I've been provided. Fortunately, I know I'm leaving you in good hands. Katie Moriarty, who has been working in Development for several months, will be taking over my role as the Manager of Public Programs and Volunteers, effective April 19th. I know she will do a great job. Please take a moment to read Katie's note in this week's newsletter, to the left, and say hello if you see her around the Museum!

Changes on the Horizon

A Note from our Executive Director, Elissa Lines

Aloha. Seems like our annual Volunteer Recognition dinner has also served as a farewell gathering for our volunteer manager. We are sorry to say goodbye to Alex. I know you join me in wishing her well and in thanking her for helping us bring our support for all of you to the next level. Though we continue to face change, we are also very fortunate to bring wonderful leaders to our organization. Katie will step in, moving from the position of Development Manager to take on the role of Manager of Volunteers and Public Programs. Katie is already familiar with our organization, passionate about our mission, and very willing to work hard to ensure continued growth. Please take some time to personally introduce yourself to Katie in the coming weeks.

Thank you for your support,
Elissa
