LucasFilms' Documentary "Double Victory" To Screen at The Tuskegee Airmen Symposium
At Pacific Aviation Museum Pearl Harbor Sunday

Honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and the African-American aviators of WWII, The Tuskegee Airmen Symposium at Pacific Aviation Museum Pearl Harbor Sunday, January 15, 2012, 2 to 4pm, will screen George Lucas' documentary on the Tuskegee Airmen, "Double Victory." This is an exclusive showing in Hawaii. Lucas provided the documentary to the Tuskegee Airmen, Inc., as the Airmen were so instrumental in helping him produce his new film, "Red Tails" which releases nationwide on January 20.

The event is free to Museum members and is included in the price of regular admission for other Museum visitors. General admission tickets may be purchased online at PacificAviationMuseum.org. For more information call 808-441-1007 or 808-441-1000.

Narrated by Cuba Gooding, Jr. and utilizing footage from the new "Red Tails" feature film, "Double Victory" tells of the Tuskegee Airmen fighting a war on two fronts—in the air against fascism in Europe and at home against racism and discrimination. The documentary will screen at 2pm, followed by a panel presentation. Speakers will be Dr. Dorothy Goldsborough, University of Hawaii professor and wife of one of the original Tuskegee Airman now living in Hawaii--Romaine H. Goldsborough; another original Tuskegee Airman Phillip Baham who lives in Hawaii; and LtCol Brian Hill, the Commander of the 96th Air Refueling Squadron at Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam. MSgt Chandra Mark, president of the newly formed TAI Hawaii organization will give updates on the Hawaii chapter, the Artis-Baham-Goldsborough Chapter of Tuskegee Airmen, Inc.

A meet and greet will follow the Symposium, in the Gallery of Hangar 37.

The Tuskegee Airmen, a group of African American pilots who fought in World War II, were the first African American military aviators in the United States military. Initially equipped with Curtiss P-40 Warhawks, the group also flew Bell P-39 Airacobras, Republic P-47 Thunderbolts, and North American P-51 Mustangs—on which they painted their famous “Red Tails.”
